so, i just want to thank all these people, and the people i missed, that i thank you, for comeing, and joining me, us, in this wild ride to the end, and for the people who stayed over the years, i want to thank you for staying, and just seeing how much the forums, and everyone on the forums, have changed, it's reall hard to believe i've been on this website for almost 2 years now, i've seen so many people come and go.... and its just crazy, i hope that all these people, and all of you, are okay, and a wish a bright future to come for these people, and everyone else throughout the known history of all the forums.

I am very, very ready to fight you on the Hurricane thing because that was not a simple mistake, that was blatant and drastic emotional manipulation that caused a trauma in this entire community and that is an unforgivable transgression in my eyes but go off I guess

No, you're dismissing and oversimplifying what happened with Hurricane. She told us lies. She was lying to us from nearly the moment she joined.

We thought she was dead. She wasn't dead. You don't lie about death.

She lied for attention. She lied because she wanted to see people miss her and feel bad for her. She made people grieve, because she wanted attention.

Also, she tried to come back. She came back to the forums as Hidden Treeline, and when she was caught, she continuously lied, spinning a new tragic story about Hurricane, still trying to drum up sympathy for Hurricane.

She lied to us, she lied to us all, and she tried to do it again. And she'll probably do it again, if she's not already.

Don't tell people that "it's time to forgive Hurricane". You weren't there. You don't understand.

Who are we to wonder where we're going?

Who am I to tell me who I am?

Let's take it back, and take in every moment

Who am I, to tell me who I am?

look, the thing is, you can't hold a grudge forever, im saying what she did is right, im saying that you can't be mad at her forever... if you're allways mad at some one, if you can't let go, you'll never let go. you 'll always hate them, even after death, hatinggg them in the afterlife.. never carrying on, bc of a grudge

I've read into some of what happened with Hurricane, and while I still likely don't understand the full scope of the situation, lying about death is never something anyone should do. What if you were on vacation, and you heard your best friend had died, then you came home , and they were fine? It seems a lot of forumers left permanently or took long breaks because of that. I'd like to just give a friendly reminder to everyone to read carefully into situations and think about how people might've reacted before forming an opinion; and while everyone is free to forgive or not forgive her, you should hear the whole story first.

If Hurricane came back, would I personally hate/bully/make her feel bad/exclude her? No. Would I trust her? Not right away. She'd have to earn that, and that would probably take a long time. Would I forgive her? No.

Guys, I don't agree or disagree with any of you. But please, it's over. Let's not dwell over it. Instead, let's focus on the happy things.
